

A close-up photograph of a cat's eye, showing the green iris and the dark pupil. The cat's fur is light-colored and slightly out of focus. The eye is the central focus of the image, looking towards the right.

Cats are special

And now their vaccines are, too

They are called non-adjuvanted vaccines – formulated especially for cats. These vaccines have fewer additives that can cause unwanted reactions. And they stimulate the immune response in a simpler and more natural way, providing the protection your cat (and your family) needs. Safely. Here at Pet Health Center, we will settle for nothing less.

The PureVax line of vaccines by Merial.

Because cats are not small dogs.

Coming here is not his idea of fun

At Pet Health Center, we understand that

It's a fact - preventive care keeps your pet healthier. That can save you from the added anxiety and expense of avoidable illnesses. Your commitment to regular annual exams means happier pets, fewer unplanned visits, and less money spent.

Parvo

The virus lives everywhere. Even in the grass. And it can wait patiently for years until your pet comes in contact with it.

Mortality can be high.
And treatment can cost hundreds.

And yet it all can be prevented with a $16 shot.

*Ask us about puppy preventive care.
It is the smartest investment you can make in your pet.*

PET HEALTH CENTER

Si habla Espanol

3365 Frankford Avenue • Philadelphia
PhillyPetHealthCenter.com • (215) 739-6401

Family

As social equations evolve,
A single constant never changes.

At Pet Health Center,
we never lose sight of the simple fact that family - like home - is where the heart is.

Si habla Espanol

PET HEALTH CENTER

3365 Frankford Avenue • Philadelphia
PhillyPetHealthCenter.com • (215) 739-6401